

THOUSANDS SEE PAGEANT OF THE FIRST DIVISION IN WASHINGTON PARADE

National Capital Pays Full Honor to General Pershing and Fighting Men of the Division—Rolling Flood of Soldiers, Guns, Horses, Tanks and Motor Trucks Pour Up Pennsylvania Avenue in Monster Victory Parade.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Hoarse with cheering, Washington rested tonight satisfied that it had paid full honor to General John J. Pershing and the fighting men of the first division. The nation's victory parade was over. For nearly three hours a rolling flood of soldiers, of guns and horses, of tanks and motor trucks, had poured up Pennsylvania Avenue without check or halt to pass the reviewing stand where stood Vice-President Marshall, representing President Wilson.

The wide street ran bank full with its grim, living tide of fighting power and organization; and as the great pageant was unrolled before their eyes the hundreds of thousands of people who formed those banks roared and shrieked with pride and approval, the sound of their cheering slowly dwindling at the end but only from physical exhaustion.

Riding at the head of a mighty column, General Pershing was carried forward along the whole line of march as the wave of sound as the nation and city gave him his formal greeting. To no American since Admiral George Dewey came home in triumph from Manila has such an ovation been tendered. Nor has the end yet come, for tomorrow congress will formally add its tribute to that of the city and the nation and with business put to one side tender the expeditionary commander a formal reception at the capital.

To men wounded in battles and not yet able to march, special tribute was given as they rode by in motor cars. And to the group in invalid chairs under the trees of a park just beyond the reviewing stand, or lying full length in their stretchers along the curb with nurses hovering about them there flowed a strong current of sympathy and pride from the thousands grouped about. There were sightseers from the military hospitals, men whose wounds will keep them long from civil life. The flags of the marching regiments were dipped to them in passing.

Upon the row on row of French 75's with which two of the artillery regiments were armed, the crowds gazed with almost the same affection France feels for these weapons that have been called her saviors.

Ahead of the sixth artillery, still in its battle front camouflage and stained with the mud of France, the long slim gun that sent the first shot of America singing into the enemy lines rode in a place of honor. It was mounted in a special trailer towed by a motor truck and a continuous cheer greeted its passage along the victory way. To the rolling kitchens also special tribute was given as they rumbled by after masses of columns with supper steaming in the kettles.

In winding up the ceremonies of reception to General Pershing tomorrow congress will meet in joint session the members of the senate marching in a body to the house chamber for the purpose. Senator Cummins, president pro tempore of the senate and Speaker Gillett will deliver the address of welcome, while former Speaker Champ Clark will extend the formal thanks of congress to General Pershing and his men as expressed in the joint resolution already adopted. With his own reply General Pershing will close the ceremony and all of the formal functions connected with his return from France.

Over Historic Avenue
Over historic Pennsylvania avenue, the American Way of Victory marked out more than fifty years ago by the returning blue-clad legions of the Army of the Potomac—the First Division of the American Expeditionary Force, marched today. It was Washington's first great parade of the war and it was conceived and carried out as the Nation's tribute not alone to the veteran fighting men who marched, but to the whole great army the Nation erected to make certain the utter defeat of German dreams of world conquest.

In Mass Formation
Marching in mass formation and equipped with all the guns, gas throwers and countless other death-dealing devices of front line service, the First Division, fresh home from France, moved along the broad avenue, a living tide of sunburned fighting men that filled the street from curb to curb. In their khaki and olive drab uniforms, the men swung by as resistlessly as the spring floods of the Mississippi. Above each solid block of infantry, rose the grim line of bayonets, the blue steel glinting dully as it caught the light. Farther

STEEL WORKERS UNCHANGED IN STRIKE ATTITUDE

Chairman Says Walkout Will Take Place Next Monday as Decided Upon

GARY ISSUES A STATEMENT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 17.—When the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, which met here today to consider matters in connection with the proposed strike of steel workers adjourned tonight, it decided to consider strike plans, decided upon. He said no action was taken at today's meeting to postpone the strike and that the decision reached at Washington last week would not be revoked. Mr. Fitzpatrick said a statement would be issued tomorrow.

The meeting primarily called to consider strike plans, discussed the question of postponing the walkout until after the industrial conference in Washington, beginning October 6, as requested by President Wilson. Arguments were made against postponement on the ground that the steel workers, having gone so far in their campaign for settlement of grievances by collective bargaining, cannot now turn back. Speakers said they would not care to go back and face workers, eager to strike to win their demands with the news that the walkout had been postponed. One speaker said the union leaders would be accused by workers of having "sold them out."

Few details of the meeting were permitted to leak out and newspaper men were kept away from the meeting room. Whether the twenty-four unions represented were canvassed to ascertain the sentiment on the matter of deferring the strike could not be learned. A report was circulated that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor had been wired to come here tomorrow but Chairman Fitzpatrick tonight said the report was not true. Mr. Gompers' according to report is not unfavorable to a postponement if it will not work injury to the steel workers.

When Chairman Fitzpatrick made the statement that the strike would go into effect next Monday morning he was asked if the strikers would picket the steel plants.

"No, there will be no picketing; the men will go fishing," he said. "We will leave the mill guards and professional gunmen run the plants."

A letter from E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation to the presidents of subsidiary companies was made public here today, giving the reasons of the corporation for refusing to meet with the union leaders to discuss the affairs of its employees. These reasons are along the line given the union leaders in New York, several weeks ago, when Chairman Gary refused to meet a committee representing the unions.

The letter added that "it is the settled determination of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries that the wages and working conditions of their employees shall compare favorably with the highest standards of propriety and justice."

Chicago Workers May Quit.
Chicago, Sept. 17.—A general walkout of steel workers in the Chicago district said to number 150,000 at six o'clock Monday morning may be called unless E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation agrees by noon today to meet the committee of the International Iron and Steel Workers, according to Theodore Vind, international organizer and president of the South Chicago Trades and Labor Assembly.

The Chicago district includes South Chicago, Indiana Harbor, East Chicago, Gary and Hammond, Ind., DeKalb, Ill., and Waukegan and Milwaukee, Wis.

Steel men say that many of the steel employees in the Chicago district will not go on strike as they have obtained interests in the employing companies.

WILL DRIVE BAN JOHNSON OUT OF ORGANIZED BASEBALL

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Declarations that Ban Johnson, president of the American League, should be driven out of baseball and that August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission's baseball's highest tribunal, and president of the Cincinnati Reds winners of the national league pennant should resign as chairman of the commission were made today by prominent club owners who met here today to nominate a successor to Mr. Herrmann.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees was emphatic in his statement, against Mr. Johnson while William Baker, head of the Philadelphia Nationals was the spokesman in regard to Mr. Herrmann.

"Ban Johnson will be put out of baseball," Mr. Ruppert declared. "We believe no man who owns stock in a baseball club in the league should be head of that organization and Mr. Johnson has admitted that he is a stockholder in the Cleveland club of our circuit."

Furthermore, Mr. Johnson has acted arbitrarily toward the board of directors in a number of instances.

At a meeting of the majority members of the board of directors of the league yesterday—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, New York; Harry H. Frazee, Boston and Charles A. Comiskey, Chicago—Mr. Comiskey, president of the White Sox was authorized to procure a statement of the league affairs from Mr. Johnson, using all necessary legal means. Mr. Johnson, it was said today had not returned from the east.

Mr. Baker in referring to Mr. Herrmann said:

"The Cincinnati Club cinched the pennant in our league yesterday and as a man Mr. Herrmann should resign from the commission. It would not be fair for Mr. Herrmann to sit as a judge on the commission when his club is one of those which will be a contestant for the world's championship."

When advised that Mr. Herrmann had declared that he knew of no committee having been appointed to select a successor to him as chairman of the commission, Colonel Ruppert said that the Cincinnati official was fully aware of the appointment of the committee.

The joint committee which met today was appointed in New York some time ago for the purpose of selecting a man to act as chairman of the national commission.

This committee consisted of four members, two each from the National and American Leagues. William F. Baker, president of the Philadelphia club and William Vaack, head of the Chicago club, represented the senior organization while Colonel Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York club and Frank J. Navin, head of the Detroit club were to represent the junior organization.

Mr. Navin later resigned from the committee and Colonel Ruppert, represented the American League.

The committee was in session for several hours today, and when it adjourned announced that four paid a tribute to that executive as a "high minded man."

"Whenever formerly anything was done in detriment of the interests of China, we had to approach the government that did it with apologies," Mr. Wilson said. "Now when you have the treaty and the league of nations, the representative of the United States has the right to stand up and say: 'this is against the covenant of peace. It can't be done' and if occasion arises we can add, 'it shall not be done.'"

Mr. Wilson declared China was forced to cede the Shantung concession to Germany and then was obliged to cede Port Arthur to Russia.

"Then," he continued, "England must needs have Wei Hei Wei as an equivalent concession to that made to Germany. And presently certain ports and territory back of them ceded upon similar principles to France. Everybody got in except the United States."

Will Be Returned.
These powers, said Mr. Wilson, had Japan's promise to return Shantung to China and intended to see that it was fulfilled under the league. He said he had asked his colleagues at Versailles specifically whether they meant under the league to inaugurate a new policy toward China and they told him they did.

Far from being detrimental to China's interests, he declared the treaty really was the first in the world's history to do something for China's benefit. In all previous instances of acquisition of Chinese territory he said the United States had not even protested.

Two addresses were on the president's program for first day of his stay in San Francisco. He spoke first at a Women's luncheon given by various women's organizations of California and was applauded when he declared it was in the interest of the women of the country that the treaty be accepted.

Trustees of Humanity.
The president told the luncheon guests that there were no words strong enough to picture the extent to which the world was trusting to the leadership of America.

"We cannot desert humanity," he said. "We are the trustees of humanity. I cannot conceive a motive adequate to hold men off from this great enterprise."

Touching upon the Shantung provision of the treaty, Mr. Wilson said he was not satisfied with that settlement, but that it was rational to propose to make the situation better by the treaty's amendment. He traced at length the growth of Japanese power in Shantung declaring the original grant of the Shantung rights to Germany was the result of a hypocritical demand by the German foreign office.

Yet at the time that demand Mr. Wilson continued, President McKinley made no protest on the part of the American government. Neither were protests made, he asserted, when other nations took parts of Chinese territory.

"Which of the gentlemen that now are protesting," he asked, "were prominent in protesting against the original grant to Germany? It makes my heart burn when some men are so late in doing justice."

It is not from China but from Germany, the president said that Shantung is taken by the treaty. There was applause when he declared that on the other hand China's interests were protected by the league of nations.

For Benefit of China.
It's the first time in the history of the world," he asserted, "that anything has been done for China."

Referring to the Shantung concession, he said that China had been deceived and conspired against by Germany. The pretext was some German missionary had been killed. My heart aches," he said.

List Of The Dead Boston Police From Hurricane Have Challenged Now Reaches 300 U.S. Constitution

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 17.—The list of dead from Sunday's hurricane is now about 300, it was announced tonight.

A heavy rain fell almost continuously today, hampering the work of clearing the debris.

Attempts at identifying the bodies had been abandoned because of their condition and burial parties sent out along the shores of Nueces bay were hurrying the corpses to nearby towns for interment.

The bay front is lighted tonight by a score or more of huge bon fires and into these are being cast the carcasses of cattle drowned when the tidal wave swept over Mustang island which lies across the mouth of Corpus Christi bay. Heavy rainfall to the east of Corpus Christi was threatening to stop relief trains hurrying here. Last reports said the Nueces river was rising rapidly and that a railway bridge between Robstown and Odem was in danger of being carried away.

The food situation serious from the outset, took a more acute turn today with the arrival of several hundred refugees from the surrounding country. Fear was freely expressed tonight that when the limited food stocks in surrounding towns is exhausted more than thirty thousand persons would become entirely dependent upon relief supplies now being brought here unless the railroad situation improves.

They declared they were determined, however, to insist on their demand for shorter hours, refusal of which would mean a strike.

As evidence of their determination to press their demands, strikers pointed out that a ten per cent assessment amounting to $10,000 a week was being collected from the men for a strike fund.

WILSON TOUCHES UPON SHANTUNG PACT PROVISION

Declares Treaty is First in History to Do Something for China's Benefit

WE'RE "TRUSTEES OF HUMANITY"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 17.—Recalling that heretofore when foreign nations had obtained concessions in China, the United States had made no protest, President Wilson today declared the peace treaty with its league of nations, provided a basis on which the United States could say "it can't be done."

"And if necessary," he continued, "the United States could say 'it shall not be done.'"

The president spoke at luncheon given by the Associated Women's Organizations.

Touching upon the seizure of Shantung during President McKinley's term, President Wilson paid a tribute to that executive as a "high minded man."

TURKS RESUME ARMENIAN ATTACKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Turks have resumed their attacks upon the Armenians and the very existence of the nation is in danger, according to a cable message received by the American committee for the independence of Armenia and made public here today.

The message was sent by the Paris representative of the Armenian republic transmitting information received from his government. Forces of Turks, Tartars and Kurds are surrounding Armenia, the message says, and the Armenian soldiers have been forced to surrender one province after a hard struggle overwhelmed by numbers and short of munitions. An urgent appeal is made for 10,000 American soldiers and the necessary equipment for 30,000 Armenian volunteers.

Mutapha Kemal, who was arrested in January and charged with being responsible for massacres of Greeks in Asia Minor is at the head of the Turkish forces.

In a statement issued with the message James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany and chairman of the Armenian committee charged that America equally with France and Great Britain is responsible for "the revolting human tragedy" that is now being enacted in Armenia.

The necessity of giving prompt aid to the Armenians was based by Mr. Gerard on national interest.

MINE WORKERS AWAIT STEEL MEN'S DECISION
"Mother" Jones Appears Before Convention at Cleveland Wednesday.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 17.—Interest of the United Mine Workers delegates today was turned to Pittsburgh, where the decision of the national organizing committee on the proposed steel strike Monday will affect a large number of organized and unorganized miners in steel corporation enterprises. Initiated leaders hinted that announcement of the decision for or against postponement of the strike might be withheld temporarily in order to gain the tactical element of surprise should the decision be to call the steel workers out on Monday.

"Mother" Jones, the veteran organizer of the miners, appeared again before the convention to lay farewell before returning to Pennsylvania to participate in the work of the strike, which she regards as certain to come on Monday. She appealed to the delegates to drop their factional struggles in the face of the common enemy. The session of the convention however, was devoted largely to the contest with the radical elements in the organization which were again completely routed on resolutions submitted by a Montana union endorsing the "one big union" and demanding withdrawal from the American Federation of Labor.

Following the decision of the convention refusing recognition to delegates from the 25 Illinois local unions which called strikes against the order of the international and state officials, State President Carrington of the Illinois state organization telegraphed orders to the striking Illinois miners to return to work. This afternoon Mrs. Thomas J. Mooney appeared before the convention to present the case of her husband and to ask the miners to support the proposed general strike on October 8 to effect his liberation. John White, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, also addressed the convention.

TO TEST "SEARCH AND SEIZURE" ACT

Constitutionality of Law Will Be Decided by Suit Filed in Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—Suit to test the constitutionality of the Illinois search and seizure act, passed by the fifty-first general assembly for the purpose of enforcing prohibition in "dry" territory, was begun in the Illinois supreme court today.

The proceedings attacking the validity of the anti-liquor law were in the nature of an appeal brought from McHenry county by Herbert Marquis, convicted in the trial court of transporting intoxicating liquor in violation of the provisions of the prohibition act.

Marquis was found guilty of conveying intoxicating liquor from Milwaukee to Chicago, and was fined $100 and costs. He alleges errors in the trial and unconstitutionality of the search and seizure act.

LEAGUE AMENDED BY EVERY NATION EXCEPT THE U. S.

Johnson Asserts Wilson Would Deny America Privilege Given Others

MAKES ADDRESS AT LINCOLN, NEB.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 17.—In addressing a large gathering here tonight, Sen. or Hiram W. Johnson of California on the 132nd anniversary of the signing of the constitution of the United States at Philadelphia, denounced the "league of nations covenant" as an infamous document and declared that its adoption would result in throwing the country into an international confederation and deprive the republic of its future independence of action. It would, he said, substitute misty internationalism for Americanism.

Senator Johnson said:

"The president has made, and asked the senate to approve, a league covenant—that is to be higher than the constitution. Except the sovereign people, no power on earth can legally change our constitution or make another to override it. None but the people should be permitted to throw this independent republic into an international confederation where it must necessarily lose its independence of action. The people can do that but no parliament or servants of those people should be permitted to do it. It is admitted by the president that we lose our independence in the league. Misty internationalism has been substituted for Americanism. The great fundamental question which every American father and mother should answer: Shall American boys police the world? Shall American blood uphold, maintain and preserve old world governments and the territorial integrity of the nations which have immensely increased their boundaries?"

QUOTES PRESIDENT WILSON

"On the president's behalf, I am announcing himself against amendments to the league of nations or reservations of any sort. He says in effect to the American people, 'you must accept the foreign document which I present to you without investigation, analysis, amendment or reservation.' Upon what theory does he limit the action of what is supposed to be the greatest democracy of the world? When did the president of the United States possess the power to say to its people and its congress 'you must?'"

When this league of nations was discussed at Paris, Great Britain would not be a party unless Great Britain was given six votes and in this fashion Great Britain amended it. France declined to subscribe to the league unless France was given an offensive and defensive alliance by the United States and altho the president denounced up to the very moment that he signed it, any special alliance or any separate agreement with any nation he yielded to Clemenceau and brought back to us the special alliance against which he had so often declaimed. Thus France amended the league. Japan declined to sign the league unless given Shantung and 28,000 Chinese. The president whispered he would never consent and forthwith he yielded and consummated the Shantung infamy. Thus Japan amended the league.

"Just one country is denied the privilege by Mr. Wilson of protecting its life, its treasure, its sovereignty, its blood and its future and that country is the United States."

BULKWICK OF LIBERTY

"The senate insists that the United States shall be protected and that such reservations as are necessary for the preservation of our institutions and our rights shall be written into the instrument. The president denies this right to the American people and the senate, while according it to every other nation. The senate may have all the faults which the president attributes to it, but today it stands the bulwark of American liberty, stands between the American people and the unholy attempt to foist upon them foreign domination."

"How can any man of liberal

The Presbytery of this area has established the rule that every minister must receive a salary of not less than $1,500 and a home. To some of the earlier ministers this sum would sound fabulous and that the ministers intended to live in luxury or provide for old age. But the fact is that the salary proposed when present day living costs are considered, is not any larger than pioneer ministers drew. The ministers haven't formed a union but they are nevertheless letting their requests be known.

THE SHOW DOWN.

One remarkable thing about the rumored strike of all steel workers and which new seems very likely, is that the big corporations do not seem to be worried. One reason perhaps is found in the statement of President Gary of the U. S. steel corporation that only 15 per cent of its employees hold union membership.

It is a noteworthy fact too, that many large employers of labor feel that the radical element in many organizations has secured control and that now will be just as good a time as any to have the "show down" and to find out whether the conservative, sensible elements of organized labor will rule or the radicals.

THE DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

The government's attack on the high cost of living and the continued discussion of the subject thru weeks and months has been very definitely reflected in the grain, livestock and provision markets during these recent days.

Prices have tumbled by a big percentage and now comes the Illinois Agricultural Association and thru its officers warns farmers to wait for a "sane" market, declaring that the lower prices are not justified by supply and demand and that the speculators are responsible for much of the "hammering" with the intention of profiting by a later market rise.

This situation throws some light on the difficult problem that government officials have before them in their campaign to lower living costs.

THE TOLL OF ACCIDENTS.

A report recently made public shows that in the U. S. 2,000,000 persons are injured by accidents, many of them happening in industrial plants and many more on highways. Yet people give but scant attention to these things for many of the accidents are not of the spectacular kind and get little public notice. The world is horrified at war statistics that do not present near as huge totals.

While there is need to use every agency for the preservation of peace and thus prevent the loss of life and useless injury to fighting men, there is also great need for campaigns for public safety. The difficulty is to get the people to understand how large the problem is since the accidents are of such various kinds and occur thru such a wide area.

UNCLE SAME AS STOREKEEPER.

The government is going into the retail business on a big scale for now definite announcement has been made of the opening by the war department of twenty four retail stores. In these establishments which are being placed according to districts, supplies of all kinds are to be offered at retail.

The list of prices already made public indicates that there will be some real bargains this time by comparison with general market prices. However, it is too early for the consumer to judge of these values and the real offerings of Uncle Sam's big department store may not be any more attractive than were the provisions offered by parcels post a few weeks ago.

HAS FAITH IN FUTURE.

"I am not alarmed about the industrial or commercial future of this country," said a well known Jacksonville man the other day. "There are people who believe that this period of unrest and uncertainty is going to lead to serious—or at least unfortunate conditions."

This level-headed business man went on to point out the vast money resources of the U. S., its great wealth of natural resources, the certainty of its soil and the general relationship of the country to the commerce of the world. Comparing only this country's financial condition with that of the old world, considering the taxes that must be paid by the different countries in discharging the war debt, there is certainly every reason for believing that Americans will take the same course and that the present period of unrest will soon be over and business generally be on a sound and satisfactory basis.

There isn't always a feeling of such optimism but anyone who seriously studies U. S. conditions now can see good reason for such optimism.

FORGETTING LESSONS OF THE WAR.

In meeting present social and industrial conditions it will really be necessary to get back some of the economy and frugality that the war taught. Statistics show that the average American city sends to the dumping grounds 13 tons of valuable waste material annually for every 1,000 persons. It was not long after the war that the economies Americans had learned were gradually forgotten and the lessons in thrift were evidently not well learned. It is different in England where organizations to prevent waste thrive and new ways are constantly being found to save. Months ago some leaders of thought, in the U. S. pictured great advantages for the U. S. because of the lessons that the war taught. Seemingly these same advantages were counted too early.

The thrift spirit must come back to the U. S., with its big lead will later on be out-distanced by Great Britain and other countries where economy, thrift and frugality rule and where the people have started on a steady policy of recovery from war devastation.

comes, the pesky fly and all his shuns may roost on wall and floor; though I have slain ten billion flies, the ghastly truth I recognize—there are ten billions more. You've heard that failed gun who rolled a stone that weighed a ton up hill forevermore; no useful purpose he achieved, and that's why he was pained and pained, and why his head was sore. No man enjoys his work on earth unless he gets his labor's worth in one or other guise; to roll a boulder up a hill until one's feet get tired and chill, is much like swatting flies.

SAYS WILSON'S CAUSE MEANS ANARCHY?
The following criticism of Pres. Wilson by Chancellor Day of Syracuse University was published in the Chicago Tribune yesterday: "The chancellor declared the president should take the first train back to Washington 'and attend to business.'"

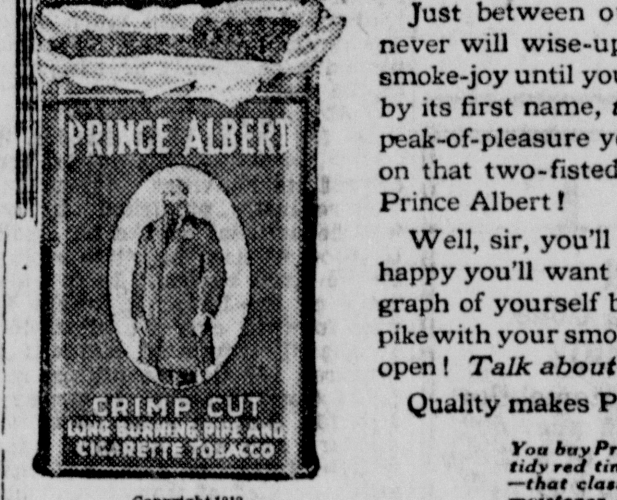

"We have the spectacle of the president of the United States," he said, "making a continuous tour across the continent with an appeal to all who come to hear him, that the people of the United States strike against the United States government. Why?"

"Because the senate does not agree with him."

"It may be that I am not thinking correctly, but if I am, the greatest issue before us is not the league or the treaty, but whether the senate shall be permitted to do its work without the violent epithets that have been hurled at it. If the people forget that we shall drift into anarchy."

FIRST DIVISION IN

next, followed by the Second infantry brigade composed of the 26th and 28th infantry and the 2nd machine gun battalion, then the long lines of "75's" and the motor drawn "155's" of the 1st artillery brigade, the 5th and the 7th field artillery. The horse-drawn guns and limbers of the 5th rolled by three columns abreast and the 7th puffed and panted along with its heavier guns in the same formation.

Regular Trains.
The regular trains of the divisions followed, the 1st engineer regiment leading the way with the 1st engineer train behind it to be succeeded by the 2nd signal battalion. Then came the almost endless wagon and truck trains of the ammunition, supply and sanitary trains and the 1st company, military police and finally the hospital trains, the 2nd, 3rd, 12th and 13th ambulance companies and field hospitals.

Many Additional Units.
At various points in the divisional line and before the wallowing tanks hammered and clattered in an uproaring conclusion to the five hour spectacle, all manner of additional units, not part of the division itself, were inserted. These included searchlight trucks, ordnance machine shops, units on motor trucks, sound ranging devices for detecting the position of hidden guns, sound rangars for spotting air raiders at night and much other mechanical equipment that has played a constantly growing part in the war.

Record Speaks for itself.
So far as the First division is concerned, the official record of its activities during the war recently published by the war department speaks for itself. It stood 93 days in active sectors of the front against 123 in quiet parts of the line; it fought its way forward over 51 kilometers of sharply contested ground; it captured 163 German officers and 6,304 German men; it captured also 119 German guns, 62 trench mortars and 413 machine guns. It lists 4,411 officers and men killed or died of wounds and had 17,201 men wounded or gassed in the days it spent at the front and lost only 152 of its own personnel as prisoners to the enemy. Its replacements were greater than its original strength, 30,026 and 356 of its members won distinguished service crosses for conspicuous gallantry in action.

How We Go At It
First we look into the battery to see if you put water in it.
Then we use the hydrometer which is the one reliable way of knowing the condition of its charge.
Then, if no special cause of trouble appears we put it on the line to see if it will take a charge.
But if there is plain indication of serious trouble we open the battery up and find out exactly what's what.
Don't trust your battery to amateurs or artists in guesswork, who claim they can tell inside condition by outside inspection.
Come here where you find adequate machines and apparatus to really inspect, charge and repair any battery.

views agree to article ten. When I speak of men of liberal views, I mean those whose hearts throb in unison with humanity, those who believe government's obligation is first to men and women and children. This section freezes the world into immutability. It abrogates to those of us who are here today a knowledge superior to that of all those who shall come hereafter. It makes the present generation decide the fate of all future generations. It takes no heed of new world events, of ever changing advances and progress. It assumes today to be the end and that the man of today may write the history of tomorrow. It assumes to put the world in a straight jacket, wherein there can be no movement for betterment or progress of humanity. But beyond and above all this, the maintenance of this static condition can be accomplished by the blood of just one nation and that is ours.

"Are you ready, Americans, to pledge your sons and your sons' sons to maintain and preserve for all time the present governments of the little nations we are setting up in Europe and the present governments and boundaries of the British and Japanese empires?"

"It was in the name of Americanism that our boys went across the sea, that you so cheerfully gave of your blood and treasure, but you are now told that this Americanism is narrow, selfish, lacking in altruism, devoid of vision and we are asked to blot it out to substitute for patriotism internationalism."

NO U. S. CONTINGENT

must say, when I think how we have made an excuse of religion some times to work a deep wrong. The central government of China had done all it could to protect those German missionaries. Their death was due to local disturbances, to local passions, to local antipathy against the foreigner. There was nothing that the Chinese government as a whole could justly be held responsible for. But suppose there had been? Two Christian missionaries are killed and therefore one great nation robs another nation and does a thing which is fundamentally un-Christian and heathen. For there was no adequate excuse for what Germany exacted of China."

Province Ceded to Germany.
"I read again only the other day the phrases in which poor China was made to make the concession. She was made to make that in words dictated by Germany—in view of her gratitude for Germany for German services rendered. The deepest hypocrisy conceivable. She was obliged to do so by force. Which of the gentlemen now objecting to the cession of the German rights in Shantung in China were prominently protesting against the original cession, or anyone of those original cessions? It makes my heart burn when some men are so late in doing justice."

"I am not accusing some of the honorable men whose objections I am trying to answer with trying to draw near to Germany. That is not my point. But I am saying that what they are attempting to do is exactly what Germany desires and that it would touch the honor of the United States very much if, at the end of this local struggle we should seek to take the position which our enemies desire and our friends deplore."

"But I am arguing the matter only because I am a very patient man. I have not the slightest doubt as to what the result is going to be. I have felt the temper and high purposes felt the temper people as I have crossed this wonderful land of ours."

Ninety years ago a young college professor, fresh from the east with all its comforts and privileges, sought the far west for the sake of doing good. Long and tedious was the journey by stage, canal, steamboat and wagon and it was fraught with dangers and privations. The comfortable surroundings of the eastern home were exchanged for the log cabin, the crude ways and uncomfortable conditions of a frontier town.

He gathered about him in the humble quarters a band of nine young men, Chatham Simms, Charles Barton and others, and this was the modest beginning of Illinois college. Grand, brave men were Sturtevant, Beecher, Adams, Turner, Post and others with them and like their blessed Master, they did it all "for the joy that set before them."

Purpose of Illinois College.

At one time, while talking over those days Dr. Sturtevant said to the writer: "My desire is not to leave a fortune; not to attain wealth or fame, but to found a college which shall be a power for good" and how grandly they succeeded, with the judicious work of their successors, was well evidenced at the opening exercises of the 91st year of Illinois college yesterday morning.

President Rammelkamp introduced Rev. W. E. Collins, pastor of Congregational church, who conducted the responsive reading. Rev. W. H. Marbach of State Street Presbyterian church, read the scripture lesson and Dean Hayden offered prayer.

The speaker of the morning was Rev. J. F. Langton, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, who addressed the young people in a very happy manner. He said in brief:

Dr. Langton Welcomes Students. Young gentlemen and ladies; or shall I say boys and girls? As president of the Ministerial association of the Protestant churches of the city I bid a cordial welcome to our beautiful city, to the churches of the place and to all its religious activities. I really didn't know how close this college is to my heart until our boys were beaten by another institution. My welcome applies to the prayer meeting, Christian Endeavor, Sunday worship and all the forces which tend to build up a better character and Christian life.

I was once asked to welcome some young men who were to attend an institution in Chicago because near to it was a school for young ladies but I at once remarked there was no need to go to Chicago to find capable, attractive and accomplished young ladies for we have them here and I stand sponsor for the beauty, grace and strong character of the young ladies of this city and vicinity.

I congratulate you on the return of Coach Harmon (apause). The thing of greatest importance is to mold Christian character so you may worthily represent Illinois college and be true to the best and noblest that is in mankind.

Prof. Keep, the new vocal director of the Conservatory, then sang with fine effect a solo which was well received and showed him to be a master of his art.

President Rammelkamp then said in brief:

At this, the beginning of our college year, we must not lapse back into the ways that prevailed before the war but progress. We shall not be occupied with the duties which devolved on the military students of last year but with wholly civil life and it behooves us to make good progress. I thank God for the goodly number of our boys who returned from the war and for the number here today after serving overseas. They are: Wilson Akers, Fred Bray, Everett Whisler, Robert Foster, LeRoy Ellison, Edwin E. Smith, Glenn Stricker, Frank Merrill, Russell Bronson, John Curran, William S. Dewes, Leon Ferreira, Earl Stephenson, Henry Smith, Worthington Adams, Arland Folsom, Ira Fanning.

Large Freshman Class.

Generally my first greetings are to the new students but today I want to tender the glad hand to the boys who have come back from overseas; also Captain Harmon and others (applause). I am glad to see Fred at the organ for that means good music. I am interested in the freshman class, its character and its size. With the exception of last year when conditions were abnormal, this is the largest freshman class in the history of the college. In 1916 the entering class numbered 166 and this year 170. The conservatory also shows a registration of between 150 and 170. There are also in attendance for the first time men who were in the service during the great war.

We also welcome the new members of the faculty and trust they will find their duties and associations here wholly congenial and will be able to accomplish the best results. They come well equipped for their duties and wholly recommended in other ways.

During the great war the country depended much on the colleges in many ways and today great responsibilities devolve on all college men and women. Hereafter we are to direct our efforts not to the destruction of life and property but to construction. Great changes have come over the eastern world and our geographies are all out of date. New countries have sprung into existence; new governments have arisen; monarchies have crumbled and immense social and economic changes have taken place.

Europe is today virtually bankrupt and our country must help her. I wonder how many here could pass an examination on the meaning of Bolshevism and Soviet government and how many of the faculty even could mark the papers correctly. Bolshevism cannot be stamped out by bullets, but by education. Our country must transfer her energies from the manufacture of the munitions of war to those of peace. The U. S. has a world wide duty to perform.

We cannot remain isolated nor disregard the call from abroad. These problems come home to each of us and I urge on you all a serious consideration of these matters.

The presence of the soldiers in our midst makes us feel that a college education is worth while and may God help us to perform all the duties devolving on us bravely, honestly and to the very best of our ability and fit ourselves while in the college the better to fill our places in the life which awaits us.

The benediction by Rev. E. B. Landis ended the interesting exercises.

Matrimonial

Smith-Looman.

The marriage of Miss Greta C. Looman and Lloyd T. Smith took place at the home of the bride in Meredosia Wednesday, Sept. 17, at 4 o'clock in the presence of a few immediate relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Hope, the ring service being used.

The bride was attired in a gown of white Georgette over satin and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The traveling suit was of brown with hat to match.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Looman of Meredosia and is very popular in society circles of her home town. She graduated from the high school there in the class of 1916 and afterward attended Bradley Polytechnic Institute in Peoria specializing in Domestic Art for which she has much natural talent. In August, 1918 she departed for Washington, D. C., where she was engaged for ten months in government work for the service of her country.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Sanborn, Ia., and is a graduate of Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria where the friendship of the young couple originated. Mr. Smith specialized in Industrial Art and was engaged in his profession at Washington, Ia., until the past summer when he became a member of the summer faculty at the Iowa State College at Ames, Ia., and the ensuing year will be engaged in the Engineering Extension Department of the college.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 16.—News writers on the three afternoon newspapers here were standing firm here today in their disagreement with the publishers over a wage scale and as yesterday's busied themselves with their own newspaper.

In the newspaper offices the managing editors, editorial writers and advertising staffs were covering assignments and handling "copy" with the same energy that they showed yesterday. The publishers have had no reference to their position in their editions.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR CONCORD PASTOR

Farewell Reception Monday Evening in Honor of Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Fairchild — Christian Church S. S. to Elect Officers — Other News Notes.

W. F. Nergenh is making preparations to build a five room house for his son Arthur. It will be located upon the west side of the road, and will be a very comfortable home, with the large basement, and one or more porches. G. F. Lewis and E. M. Harmon will do the carpenter work, while Duckett and Wessler will furnish the foundation of concrete blocks.

A farewell reception was given Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Fairchild Monday evening at the home of E. C. Nickel, northeast of the village. Between 75 and 100 members and friends were present. The evening was spent in a very happy manner with music and social conversation. Mr. and Mrs. Fairchild have many friends here who deeply regret to part with them. They leave at once for their new home at Canton.

A union service was held at the M. P. church on Sunday evening in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League. Rev. Mr. Childs was the speaker.

Rev. Thomas Symons goes to the M. E. conference at Charleston this week.

Sam Brockhouse was called on the jury at Jacksonville on Tuesday.

It is understood that the 90 acre farm formerly owned by G. J. R. Wood has changed hands again at $250 per acre to Arthur Carls.

W. F. Nergenh and the writer were visitors to Mercedia on Friday. The cotton land corn certainly looked good this year. A yield of 75 bushels to the acre is probable.

Potatoes are not yielding as well as we all hoped for, but Hubert Wester has harvested a quarter acre of fine potatoes that yielded at the rate of 140 bushels to the acre and sold for $2 per bushel, or $280 per acre, almost the price of the land.

Next Sunday is election of officers at the Christian church Sunday school. C. O. Bayless, supt., desires a good attendance so as to get well organized for another year. After Sunday school the Lord's Supper will be observed and maybe an address given.

The Journal scribe received a very interesting letter from Davis W. Martin, who is now pastor of one of the five Christian churches at Toledo, Ohio. Brother Martin was pastor of the local church for about 18 months and has many warm friends in Morgan county who will be pleased to hear that he is getting nearer to his old home. He served for a while as assistant pastor of an eastern church while the regular pastor was in France during the war. Brother Martin referred in a very feeling manner to the funeral of our deceased mother which took place four years ago. He delivered the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kentschler and daughter Elti were Sunday visitors at the home of G. E. Hurston near Joy Prairie station.

TO FORM AMERICAN LEGION BRANCH

Rev. W. H. Marbach Chairman of Committee on Organization—Mass Meeting Will Be Held.

A branch of the American Legion, the G. A. R. of the soldiers of the last war, is soon to be organized in Jacksonville. Rev. W. H. Marbach, who entered the army service as a private and subsequently became a chaplain, with the rank of lieutenant, has been designated as the chairman of the committee on organization. Serving with Mr. Marbach will be W. T. Harmon and Marcy W. Osborne.

It is the expectation that a public meeting of all soldiers and sailors who were in the war will be called at an early date. It is the expectation that some organization will be effected in time to permit of sending delegates to the state convention to be held a few weeks hence.

The growth of the American Legion has been remarkable and in many cities of Illinois camps or branches have already been organized. A special week for a general campaign for membership has been designated and it is the intention to have the local organization effort timed with this general campaign. As already indicated, the American Legion is a non-political organization purporting to benefit the soldiers and sailors and to generally promote the cause of patriotism.

JUSTICE COURTS

Hiram Newingham was arraigned in Justice Dyer's court and fined $3 and costs on the charge of assault and battery. Newingham formerly resided in Winchester and Beardstown. He had some trouble with his wife and she came here and secured work. Tuesday it is alleged that Newingham came to Jacksonville and threatened to kill his wife. She swore out a warrant for his arrest and he was placed under bond of $100 for his appearance September 20 and went to jail in default of bond. Later parties came from Beardstown and the case was settled by Newingham paying the fine and costs.

ONE JACKSONVILLE BOY'S WAR HISTORY

His home was here, and his parents still reside here. He graduated from the High School; then from the State Normal; then after teaching for two years he took a four years' course at the State University and graduated with the degree of Chemical Engineer. Had three years of successful experience in his profession. When the United States entered the war he was commissioned Lieutenant in the Ordnance Department, and after a try-out at Pittsburgh was given nice, soft berth supervising the delivery of shells from two factories at Welland, Can. He stood it for about four months before the desire for "action" became too strong to be resisted, then resigned his "swivel-chair" job and enlisted in the Navy as a common seaman. He has just retired with the rank of Ensign and gone back to his work as Chemical Engineer in the western oil fields.

BARN FOR SALE
The barn at Nichols park must be moved and will be sold to the highest bidder. It is a good building and can easily be made into a dwelling. Sealed proposals for its purchase will be received by the secretary, Terrance Brennan, up to noon, September 23rd.

COMPANY C MEN ON RIFLE RANGE

Capt. James Takes Thirty-five Men for Rifle Practice—Some Good Scores Made.

Thirty-five members of Company C returned from Springfield Wednesday evening tired but rather proud of their work in their first tryout on the rifle range.

The men left over the Wabash Tuesday evening in charge of Capt. James and Lieutenants Farrell and Burdick. Arriving at Springfield they took cars for Camp Lincoln where they were assigned to quarters. Returning they came over the Alton by way of Murreysville, arriving home at 8:30 o'clock.

At 8 o'clock Wednesday morning the men were on the range but after an hour's shooting they were driven to quarters by rain. They did not get back on the range until 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

While the shooting was done under adverse circumstances Capt. James was greatly pleased with the showing of his men, most of whom had never before had any experience with military arms.

The men who qualified in the shooting Wednesday will go back for competitive shooting later on. While the scores had not been tabulated Wednesday evening Capt. James is confident that a number of his men will make the necessary grade which is 60 per cent.

Wednesday the men shot at 200, 300 and 500 yards. The possible score at the various distances is 225. The men had an added incentive yesterday as the shoot was to decide who would wear the medals given the company by the Honorable Andrew Russell for the next few months.

Capt. James, who qualified as a sharpshooter with old Company I before the Spanish-American war demonstrated that he still has his shooting eye by leading all of his men. It has been a number of years since Capt. James shot any and he was pleased to find that he had not forgotten how.

Private Kenneth Beerup of Alexander who is an expert shot at the traps was runnerup to Capt. James and made excellent scores in all his distances. Private William Dobson ranked third.

As the result of the shoot yesterday, Capt. James with a total score of 197 wins the gold medal. Private Beerup with a total of 177 wins the silver medal and Private Dobson with a total of 171 wins the bronze medal.
